REPUBLICANS LAY GROUND ON SATURDAY FOR VICTORY

One hundred top level Republican leaders from across the nation gathered Saturday morning at the Eisenhower farm to form the "All-Republican Conference" and set their sights on the fall elections where they hope to win control of the House in Washington and elect more Republican governors.

The speakers' list was headed by their host, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, and included his former vice president, Richard M. Nixon, congressional leaders, area reports from governors and attacks on the Kennedy administration's record at home and abroad.

Former President Eisenhower set the tone for the meeting in his initial speech in which he declared the Republicans were "the party of business" and that he was "proud of the label."

General Eisenhower climaxed the gathering when he returned to the platform about 1:10 p.m. to second "with all enthusiasm" what National GOP Chairman William Miller, who had presided over the meeting, had just said about broadening the base of the Republican party's political effort.

General Eisenhower made a special plea for party unity and urged that "we stop magnifying differences." He added: "I've come to despise the term 'liberal' and maybe 'conservative' too. We're for progress and responsibility and that's a battle cry worth spreading across the country."

He suggested that minority groups be included in the speaking lists for future meetings of the new all-Republican conference and made specific mention of the Negroes and the women of the Republican party. He called on all the women present to stand for a round of applause.

He urged "work, unity and dedication to our country" as a means (Continued On Page 3)

FESTIVAL WILL OPEN TUESDAY AT FAIRFIELD

The 37th annual Fairfield firemen's carnival will open on Tuesday evening for a five-night stand ending Saturday night.

"Kiddy Night" will be the feature on Tuesday evening with rides at half price. Barbecues and French fries will be featured on the menu.

This year's program marks a lengthening of the annual festival. Last year the firemen, who had been holding six night events previously, tried a five-night carnival believing it would prove as successful financially as a week long event. This year they resumed a longer schedule.

FUNDS FOR OPERATION

The festival is the primary means by which the Fairfield firemen raise operating and maintenance funds. The carnival follows the annual solicitation for funds.

Start of the carnival occurred in 1926 when the first festival was held in connection with the meeting of the Adams County Firemen's Association in Fairfield. It was known then as "Fairfield's Old Home Week and Firemen's Carnival." Entertainment for the first event 37 years ago was provided by Fairfield area thespians who presented several plays and pageants in a large tent. The featured menu that year was chicken.

This year's programs in addition to the "Kiddy Night" on Tuesday include:

Wednesday, July 4, Fairfield Jointure High School Band, with roast beef and ham dinners to be (Continued On Page 9)

ADAMS COUPLE WED SATURDAY AT ST. IGNATIUS

The marriage of Miss Clara Agnes McDannell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. McDannell, Orrtanna R. 1, to Carroll David Redding, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll J. Redding, Gettysburg R. 6, was solemnized with a nuptial mass performed by the Rev. Fr. Louis J. Yeager at St. Ignatius Loyola Catholic Church, Buchanan Valley, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

The altar decorations were white gladioli and yellow miniature chrysanthemums and candles. The pews were decorated with white bows and greens.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of lace and nylon tulle with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves, bodice of tulle nylon and a bouffant skirt. Her bouffant veil of pure silk illusion fell to elbow length from a crown of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a white missal topped with a white orchid and white streamers knotted with feathered carnations and greens, a gift of the groom.

IN WEDDING PARTY

The matron of honor, Mrs. Kenneth Williams Jr., Orrtanna R. 1, wore an aqua street-length dress of silk organza with a fitted bodice, scoop neckline, short sleeves, full skirt and cummerbund. SOOR CHERRY HARVEST GETS GOING TODAY

The annual sour cherry harvest began in the county this morning with hundreds of teen-agers and adults reporting to orchards to pick approximately 10 million pounds of cherries from the trees.

The estimate of Adams County's crop was decidedly "uncertain," according to officials. Hail and wind badly battered some orchards, particularly in the Orrtanna section, and as a result no one was certain as to whether the crop in those orchards would be picked.

Ronald Baltzley, farm labor official for the Pennsylvania Employment Service here, said today that at least one crew leader with about 50 pickers was starting today in one of the orchards badly hit by hail and wind, but was not certain his crew could find enough good fruit to continue.

BIG CARRY-OVER

Alexander Griest, Gettysburg R. 6, a director of Great Lakes Cherry Producers Marketing Cooperative, said the U.S. Department of Agriculture estimate for the Pennsylvania cherry crop is 21,000,000 pounds, of which a little more than half is produced in Adams County. But the estimate did not take into account what damage may have occurred from the hail, rain and wind storm.

Nationally the USDA estimate, as of June 20, was 340,000,000 pounds, or 2.7 per cent, above the 1961 crop and one-third higher than the 10-year average.

Griest added that "most disturbing is that the carry-over from prior years at the start of this season is 320 per cent over 1961 and 112 per cent over the 10-year average."

PRICE IS LOW

He added that "processors and growers must join" in a campaign to increase per capita consumption to approximately two pounds per person during the year in order to move the crop and the (Continued On Page 2)

Dr. Soblen, Runaway Spy, Improving After Attempt To Kill Self In Airliner

By RAYMOND E. PALMER

LONDON (AP) — Runaway spy Dr. Robert A. Soblen was reported out of danger today after trying to kill himself aboard a crowded Israeli airliner returning him to an American prison.

The bail-jumping 62-year-old psychiatrist, sentenced to life imprisonment for spying for the Soviet Union, slashed his wrists and stabbed himself in the abdomen with a steak knife Sunday during a flight back to New York after being refused political asylum in Israel.

A bulletin issued at Hillingdon Hospital said: Soblen's condition has improved, and it is unlikely that an operation will be necessary.

IS STILL WEAK

Other sources said Soblen was out of danger though still too weak to travel. He lost two pints of blood. Promptly administered blood transfusions restored a measure of his strength. Soblen suffers from leukemia.

Ike And Mamie Gracious Hosts To Governors

"It was wonderful. Everything worked out fine. President and Mrs. Eisenhower couldn't have been more gracious. They are wonderful people."

This was the expression of Governor David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania, host governor to the 54th annual Governors' Conference, after more than 30 heads of state governments and their wives spent more than an hour as guests of the former President and First Lady Sunday afternoon on the Eisenhower farm.

A light breeze tempered what might have been a scorching sun and the more than 100 who attended the affair thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

SWITCH PLANS

There was a switch in plans Sunday morning. When Mrs. Eisenhower felt that it was going to be an extremely warm day she cancelled the program scheduled to be held in the three large tents erected for Saturday's Republican

Governors Given Gifts

The 36 governors who visited Gettysburg Sunday, a highlight of the 54th annual Governors' Conference, not only were guests of General and Mrs. Eisenhower at a lawn party at the latter's farm, but were presented with souvenirs of this historic community.

The Gettysburg Times presented each governor with copies of two popular Gettysburg booklets, "Human Interest Stories of the Battle of Gettysburg" and "Gettysburg Sketches."

ROCKEFELLER ARRIVES

When they arrived at the farm, they were escorted to the front door where Gen. and Mrs. Eisenhower welcomed them. They passed through the house and out the front door onto the front lawn. (Continued On Page 3)

DEFENDANT FINED $25

No Admission To "Center" 2 Days

James B. Myers, superintendent of the Gettysburg National Park, said this morning that the Visitor Center will be open to the public free of charge today and Tuesday.

"We will have showings every hour on the hour from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. today and Tuesday to which the public will be admitted free. On Wednesday the admission charge of 50 cents will become effective. Children under 12 and all school or educational groups will be admitted without charge," Mr. Myers said.

ARMY FIELD BAND PLEAS WITH CONCERT SUNDAY NIGHT

The U.S. Army Field Band Sunday evening opened the observance of the 99th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg with a concert in the athletic field at Gettysburg High School.

The observance, planned by the Gettysburg Fire Department, will continue this evening with a festival at Recreation Park and a concert there by the Gettysburg Junior High School Band. The series of programs will continue through the week with different entertainment programs nightly. The annual parade will be held at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Approximately 1,000 gathered for Sunday night's concert filling the stands on the north side of the field and spilling over onto a stand at the west side of the stadium.

HOPED FOR GOVERNORS

Mayor William G. Weaver, welcoming the group to the commemorative program, said the crowd was the "largest in years" and noted that "there are probably three reasons: First we have no speaking program; second it is out of doors, and third, the U.S. Army Field Band, making its fourth appearance here tonight, is Gettysburg's favorite band."

Weaver recalled that the firemen had started annual battle anniversary programs in 1949 "at the suggestion of the late James Sherk who felt something should be done each year to mark the battle observance."

"Next year," Mayor Weaver said, "the State Commission will be in charge of programs for the observance of the 100th anniversary and then the fire department will be back in 1964 to resume its annual observance of the battle anniversary."

He added: "Starting a year ago when we learned that the governors' conference would be held (Continued On Page 3)

WOMAN'S NECK IS BROKEN IN CRASH SUNDAY

Mrs. Leona Bittle, 45, wife of Merle R. Bittle, 52, Spring Grove R. 2, was fatally injured Sunday at 10:30 p.m. when a car driven by her husband was struck by an auto operated by Larry L. Shadle, 24, New Oxford R. 1, on York St. in Penn Twp., a mile east of Hanover.

Penn Twp. Police Chief Richard Hahn said Mrs. Bittle was pinned in the car when it turned over onto its top on the sidewalk following the collision with the Shadle vehicle.

Mr. Bittle suffered multiple cuts about the head, cuts of the face and a fractured rib. Their son, Barry E. Bittle, 12, suffered cuts of the forehead and a possible fractured skull. Both were admitted as patients by the Hanover Hospital. Another son, Jay Bittle, 11, was treated at the hospital for facial cuts and released.

Shadle was admitted to the hospital with facial cuts, a possible fractured jaw and loss of several teeth.

Chief Hahn said Shadle was driving west on York St. and sought to pass another car also going west. He apparently saw the Bittle car approaching from the east and braked, but was unable to stop quickly enough. The left fronts of the two cars collided on the eastbound lane of the street, Chief Hahn said. Following the accident, the Shadle car came to rest against a car owned by Theo P. Smith, Hanover, parked in front of 866 York St. Damage to the Smith car was estimated at $75; to the Shadle car at $900, and the Bittle, which was demolished, at $1,500.

Penn Twp. police and Hanover ambulance crews and firemen worked for a time in order to release Mrs. Bittle from the tangled wreckage of the upset vehicle.

HER NECK BROKEN

Mrs. Bittle and son, Barry, were rushed to the hospital in the Hanover Fire Co. ambulance. There Dr. Donald E. Withers, Hanover, a York County deputy coroner, declared Mrs. Bittle dead of a broken neck.

Merle Bittle and Jay Bittle were removed to the hospital in the Hanover emergency truck. Shadle was removed to the hospital in the Penn Twp. police car.

Chief Hahn said he would place a charge of failing to yield half the highway against Shadle and would probably await the verdict of a coroner's jury before considering further charges.

RETURNING FROM OUTING

According to police, the Bittle family was returning home from a Sunday outing when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Bittle was the 23rd person to die in a traffic accident in York County this year.

Mrs. Bittle was a daughter of (Continued On Page 2)

Dr. Hanson, born March 12, 1882, in Wilmington, N. C., was the son of the late Louis and Augusta Glameyer Hanson.

He was a member of the board of trustees of the college and his present term was to expire in 1963. Dr. Hanson also served on important committees and boards of the United Lutheran Church in America and he was a past president of the Association of Pennsylvania College Presidents.

Dr. Hanson was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and other educational and professional societies. He was a member of the Rotary Club and was a 33rd degree Mason.

During his presidency at Gettysburg, he guided the college through an era of great improvement and achievements. During this period, the library, Breidenbaugh Science Hall and Eddie Plank Memorial gymnasium were erected, old dorm was renovated and Glatfelter Hall completely renovated and modernized into classrooms, laboratories and offices. Hanson Hall, a dormitory for girls, completed in 1950, was named in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Hanson.

Beautiful Christ Chapel became a reality and culmination of Dr. Hanson's dreams just before he retired. Memorial Field was constructed and additional land was acquired north of Lincoln Ave. and Broadway for the use of baseball and other sports.

The student enrollment increased from about 600 when Dr. Hanson first came to Gettysburg to around 1,300 when he retired. Likewise, new courses were added and the number of faculty increased during his tenure.

carry over from the prior year. The Great Lakes members are urging a 5 1/2-cent a pound base price for cherries, or $110 a ton based on 95 per cent grade with five per cent tolerance for culls. Griest said, however, this morning that the price has not yet been established.

The 5 1/2-cent figure is one of the lowest in some years and is due to the great increase in national production plus the carry-over. Locally the crop is "about normal" in size.

"PICK YOUR OWN"

The 5 1/2-cent price has led a number of growers to advertise "pick your own" programs in their orchards. Most are charging about 75 cents for a 10-quart bucket under the "pick your own" plan.

This year will also mark the first trial here of mechanical pickers, which if they prove successful may in time replace a large number of the youths and adults who annually find cherry picking a profitable way to spend the first half of July.

This year, too, marks the longest spread-out of the season in the county in a long time. At the

REPUBLICANS

of fashioning "a great victory for sound government in 1962."

In welcoming the conference, General Eisenhower issued a strong appeal for business men to enter more fully into politics—preferably Republican politics.

"FIRST BUSINESS"
"They call ours a party of business and I'm proud of the label," he said. "But business men now have to do a little waking up." They could no longer be sure, he said, that there were "well designed and well-observed limits beyond which government would not go."

Politics should be the first business of a business man, he said, and added that, if the business man did not realize it, "he is not going to have a prosperous business, not in the long run." General Eisenhower declared:

"It we don't exercise the function of self-government, by golly, we'll be governed by someone else, and that I don't like."

NEED GOP CONTROL

"Our country is facing a very critical period, and I believe that only some resurgence of Republican control in our government is going to keep things on a more level keel than they seem to be going now."

The conference was a new departure in Republican affairs, but the theme sounded like a familiar ring.

NIXON'S ADVICE

Former Vice President, Richard M. Nixon, a candidate for governor of California, laid down another traditional Republican line. The party, he said had to demonstrate to the people that "that government which spends less, taxes less and allows and encourages the people to do for themselves is the best."

General Eisenhower and Mr. Nixon were followed to the speakers stand by Senator Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois and Representative Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the congressional minority leaders.

"EV AND CHARLIE"

Senator Dirksen declared that, 30 years after the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt as President, the Democrats still were trying to find the solution to "idle hands, idle acres and idle dollars."

He suggested that the answer was a return to "the old virtues that made this country great, the best weapons that this party can have."

Mr. Halleck was more specific. To end "this assault on basic American freedoms by the hip-shooting riders of the New Frontier," he said, "get out and elect a Republican House of Representatives in November."

Rep. Bob Wilson of California, House Republican campaign chairman, saw in the House race this fall the "first opportunity to put a stop to the program of the New Frontier." Charging Kennedy with "more mistakes in two terms than Truman made in two terms—and that's going some," he predicted GOP victories in the fall "with a lot of help from the White House."

He said the GOP in the House will gain 10 seats by reappointment, predicted his party will win House control and told of a growing feeling that "this is a Republican year." He concluded: "We aim in '62 to give President Kennedy a Republican House for his own good." Congressman Walter Judd, who was the Republican keynote at the 1960 convention and who has been persuaded to run for re-election, talked on the issues of national security. "Communism doesn't work and facts do impose themselves if we have the will to stand firm for the world to see the revelation of fakery and failure by communism. If we stand firm, we'll win. If we appease, we'll lose."

Gov. Rockefeller of New York, Sen. Goldwater of Arizona, former President Herbert Hoover and George Romney of Michigan were absent but all sent messages.

Area reports and forecasts of fall victories for the GOP were presented by three governors: Leslie Powell, New Hampshire, who is chairman of the governors' conference; Norman A. Erbe, Iowa, and Robert Smylie of Idaho.

Chairman Miller noted that the Republicans lost in 1960 because they lost in 10 big cities and presented Republican Mayor William O. Cowger of Louisville, Ky., the first member of his party to hold that office since 1927. He summarized the victory as "sheer application of hard work."

Ike's budget director, Maurice H. Stans, recalling 13 consecutive deficits under FDR, predicted new huge deficits under Kennedy and said the U. S. will be "seven or eight billion dollars in the red by the end of this year."

IKE KEPT BUSY

Gen. Eisenhower sat along an aisle near the rear of the tent and was on his feet time after time to shake hands with party leaders, speakers who had just left the platform or congressmen in the group who made sure a photographer was at hand to record the handshake.

Eisenhower followed the speeches closely despite these interruptions, applauded frequently and displayed high enthusiasm for the success of the whole affair.

in Pennsylvania this year we sought to combine in some way our annual program and the visit by the governors here. Despite our best efforts, as you can see, we were unable to combine the two programs."

SPECIAL FEATURES

The band presented, under direction of Major Robert L. Bierly, an hour and 20-minute program during which the musicians varied their program from marches to jazz and from Latin rhythms to the overture to Verdi's "Sicilian Vespers."

A feature, and one for which most of the spectators were waiting, was "Gymnastics in Rhythm," during which a half dozen of the "Singing Sergeants," turned drummers for the occasion, kept up a steady drumming while tossing drum sticks back and forth. At the conclusion the band showered the drummers with drum sticks.

One of the most beautiful presentations by the "Singing Sergeants" was "The Lord's Prayer." Paul Fry pleaded as soloist for "Moon River" and another favorite of the audience was the singing of "This Is My Country."

SOUSA SELECTION

Specialist Larry Skinner proved the equal of the best trumpet players as soloist for "What's New" and other numbers. "Tea for Two" drew a chuckle from the audience by a change to Latin rhythms just as the audience was about to join the band by singing the familiar number.

Sgt. Vincent Romero presented a demonstration of the basic rudiments of drumming during "Connecticut Half-Time." Sgt. Richard Jolquin presented an excellent tenor voice in two numbers.

The piccolo and trombone sections of the band and the "Singing Sergeants" were featured in the concluding number, John Philip Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Rev. Fr. Joseph Kealy gave the invocation and Rev. Dr. Howard S. Fox the benediction.

200 ATTEND HOP

Approximately 200 young persons attended the Saturday night record hop at the "A and W" refreshment stand along the Harrisburg Rd. James Fox, president of the Teen Center, has termed the summer program "a tremendous success." The center is also planning two community projects, a combined dance for both older persons and youngsters and a community "sing along."

JOINED BY MAMIE

The lunch was catered by the Hotel Gettysburg under the personal direction of Henry M. Scharf, its manager.

After the speaking Ike went briefly to his home nearby and a few minutes later he was joined at the tent by Mrs. Eisenhower after a flurry of activity from the cameramen.

IKE WILL MAKE OVERSEAS TOUR

The Dwight D. Eisenhowers will embark on a six-week overseas tour July 18, to include stops in Stockholm, Paris and London, among others.

The trip will be one of business and pleasure for the former President and his wife, Mamie.

An Eisenhower aide, releasing the itinerary Sunday, said the general would address a world conference of teaching professions July 31 in Stockholm, Sweden.

The Eisenhowers will be accompanied by two grandchildren, Dwight David Jr. and Barbara; Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Godsen—of "Amos and Andy" fame—and their son, Craig; and a secretary and an aide.

The party will leave New York July 19 on the liner S. S. France. Eisenhower and his companions are due to return to New York Aug. 30, sailing on the S. S. America.

GET HOSPITAL CALL

Borough police were called Saturday night to the Warner Hospital by a report that a man was causing a disturbance there. The police "call sheet" stated that they found the man, that he was not disorderly while they were there but that he had been drinking and, rather than allow him to drive, they took him home. The police report said the man had been protesting to the hospital authorities because "his wife was having a baby and it wasn't his and the hospital wanted him to pay for it."

Many strolled around the gardens and lawn until all the governors had arrived. A surprise arrival was Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller, of New York, who was one of the three governors who were not expected to be here because of previous commitments.

The first governor to arrive was Michael V. DiSalle, of Ohio, and Mrs. DiSalle. They had flown to Gettysburg from Hershey and then were driven from the airport to the farm, arriving before the others. They sat in the shade of one of the tents and the governor drank a bottle of Coca-Cola while awaiting the arrival of Gov. Lawrence.

The host governor arrived at 4:05 p.m. He was followed by Governor Wesley Powell of New Hampshire and Governor Edwin L. McChesem of New Mexico. Then in quick succession came Governor John Anderson of Kansas, John Dempsey of Connecticut, Paul Fannin of Arizona, Ross R. Barnett of Mississippi, Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, John A. Volpe of Massachusetts, Elmer L. Andersen of Minnesota, Stephen L. R. McNichols of Colorado, John M. Dalton of Missouri, William Egan of Alaska, Albert D. Rosellini of Washington, Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, Robert E. Smylie of Idaho, Ernest F. Hollings of South Carolina and Elbert N. Carvel of Delaware.

OTHER GOVERNORS
William L. Guy of North Dakota, John R. Reed of Maine, Ralph M. Paley of the Virgin Islands, Archie Gubbrud of South Dakota, Frank B. Morrison of Nebraska, Price Daniel of Texas, Norman A. Erbe of Iowa, Albert S. Harrison of Virginia, F. Ray Keyser Jr., of Vermont, Edmund G. Brown of California, Donald G. Nutter of Montana, Terry Sanford of North Carolina, Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey, George D. Clyde of Utah, H. Rex Lee of American Samoa, Farris Bryant of Florida, and Matthew E. Welsh of Indiana.

Sunday was the 46th wedding anniversary of the Eisenhowers and the governors were well aware of it. They came prepared. When all the governors had arrived Gov. Wesley Powell, of New Hampshire, on behalf of the state chief executives, presented a six-piece, sterling silver table service to their hosts.

Gov. Lawrence presented Gen. Eisenhower with a bronze miniature replica, about 16 inches long, of a Civil War James 6-pounder. The inscription on a brass plate read:

A detail of 60 Pennsylvania State Police did a fine job in directing traffic and crowds in this area on Sunday. Troopers under Sgt. David James, in charge of the local barracks, were assigned to the Eisenhower farm, while others were at strategic areas in town and on the battlefield, with a force at the Visitor Center. Lt. William B. Cooper was in charge of the entire contingent.

The governors' party was made of 80 private cars and eight buses in two groups.

PLATE INSCRIPTION

"Presented to Past President of the United States Dwight D. Eisenhower, 54th annual Governors' Conference, Gov. David L. Lawrence, of Pennsylvania, Host Governor"

Eisenhower looked at the piece and said, "That a Union gun, the muzzle has a flare." It had been made at Brodbeck's, Pa., and can be dismantled.

Mrs. Eisenhower beamed when she was presented the silver service and exclaimed, "It's beautiful, just beautiful."

Gen. Eisenhower wore a light grey summer weight suit, with a yellow rosebud in his lapel. Mrs. Eisenhower was attractive in a blue and white dress with blue slippers.

TYPICAL GARDEN PARTY

The affair was a typical garden party. The visitors mingled and chatted with each other while the General and Mamie were always surrounded by different groups of visitors.

The Hotel Gettysburg catered five different kinds of cookies, punch, coco-cola, iced tea, mints and nuts. The hotel also catered to the more than 400 other men and women in the Governors' caravan who were guests of James B. Myers on conducted tours of the Visitor Center.

Gov. Egan, first elected governor of Alaska, who previously had served on the Alaska Commission which promoted the conversion of Alaska to statehood recently, was an enthusiastic visitor. He told a Times reporter:

BEAUTIFUL COUNTRY

"This is beautiful country, very beautiful. I've visited here on several occasions when I resided briefly in Washington. The entire state is most attractive. Your highways; they are so clean, they look as though they had been brushed and broomed. Everybody has been so courteous and hospitable. It is a wonderful affair." Rockefeller and several other governors shook hands with the Hotel Gettysburg staff and expressed their thanks before they left.

Gov. Brown, of California, said, "This has been a wonderful affair. It was just nice, very nice."

EISENHOWER RELAXES

After their guests had departed, Gen. Eisenhower sat and chatted with a reporter and a few others

Yanks And Angels Split In Tight Race For Lead In A.L.; Indians Lose Pair

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the Angels are wearing their halos at a slightly jaunty, rakish angle, and if their smiles are more devil-may-care than angelic these days—well, there's pretty good reason for it.

Of course, it may be a rather un-angelic attitude that's struck by these Los Angeles Angels, but then, they don't often look much like angels in any event.

There's bulky Steve Bilko, who could more easily pass for a retired wrestler, or 5-foot-5 Albie Pearson, who looks like a jockey. Or free-wheeling Bo Belinsky, more the pool hustler type than an angel.

SPLIT WITH YANKS
No, they don't look like angels at all. And, at least on paper, they certainly don't look like contenders for the American League title.

But the name on the uniform confirms the first point and the American League standings verify the second. They're only three percentage points out of first place and here it is almost time for the All-Star break.

The Angels, generally picked to finish dead in the second division in the pre-season selections, give no indication of forsaking the ride on Cloud Nine.

They gave a good indication of that Sunday when they split a doubleheader with New York at Yankee Stadium, losing the first 6-3 but rallying for the second 12-5. It gave the Angels a 2-2 split in their four-game series in New York, and marked the first time in their two-year history they had won at the Stadium.

INDIANS SCALPED
The split, along with Chicago's sweep over Cleveland, 5-4 and 7-6, dropped the Indians from first to third, in a virtual tie with Minnesota, which blanked Washington 9-0. That puts New York in first, three points up on Los Angeles. Cleveland in third only a half game behind the Minnesota in fourth, only three points back of the Indians.

Detroit edged Baltimore 3-2 and Kansas City beat Boston 9-5 in the others.

The Angels' affair with the Yankees was a bit on the stormy side, involving a full-blown ruckus and some unholly language in each game.

The Yanks won the first on homers by Hector Lopez and Tom Tresh, while the Angels rallied for runs in the eighth to take the second.

PINCH TRIPLE WINS
Chicago took advantage of Cleveland errors and the resulting unearned runs in sweeping two from the Indians. Camilo Carreon's pinch triple with two out in the ninth drove in three unearned runs and won the first game. A fifth-inning six-run upsurge, five of which were unearned as Gene Green dropped two fly balls, secured the nightcap.

Camilo Pascual (11-4) tossed his second straight shutout, 5-0, at the Washington Senators and was supported by a 13-hit Minnesota attack including home runs by Lennie Green, Bernie Allen, Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew. Pascual struck out four to push his league-leading total to 106 and went the distance for the 11th time this season.

ROBERTS LOSES
Relief pitcher Terry Fox retired Brooks Robinson with the bases loaded in the ninth to preserve Detroit's victory over Baltimore. Fox spoiled Robin Roberts' bid more. Two unearned runs by the Sox for his fifth straight victory.

Kansas City jumped on Earl Wilson, who had a no-hitter his last time out, and loser Dick Radatz for five runs in the seventh inning to put it away against the Red Sox. The winning rally featured homers by Bobby Del Greco and George Alusik.

Paschal, Pobletts Lincoln Winners
Jim Paschal, High Point, N.C., was the winner of the NASCAR late model feature race at the Lincoln Speedway, near Abbotstown, Saturday evening.

Paschal was the first heat winner, and Bobby Devine, Danbury, Conn., was the second heat victor. Devine finished second in the feature and Elmo Langley, Washington, D.C., was third.

In the sportsmen's modified feature "Peewee Pobletts, Randallstown, Md., was the winner. Pobletts took the first heat and Bobby Hersh, Glen Rock, the second. Finishing back of Pobletts in the feature were Bobby Abel, Wrightsville, and Gene Gooding, Stewartstown.

A full sportsman modified program will be held Tuesday evening at 8:30 at Lincoln with a destruction derby. Fireworks will also be a feature of the program.

CARD HITTERS SPRY AFTER TWENTY YEARS

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Twenty years after the St. Louis Cardinals upset the New York Yankees in the 1942 World Series, the Redbirds' two best hitters of '42—Enos Slaughter and Stan Musial—are still rarin' to go.

Stan The Man, who'll be 42 in November, is the National League's No. 3 hitter at .330. He has busted another flock of records this season, the latest giving him the most total bases in baseball history, surpassing Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth. Don't bet he won't be back in '63.

Old Enos, still trim at 46, vows he could still help a major league club as a pinch hitter and utility outfielder. He set out to prove it in a reunion game with the '42 Yankees Sunday. He smashed a drive which landed high on the screen in right, for a two-run triple as the Redbird oldtimers won 6-0 in two innings.

EYES COME BACK
"After 29 years," Enos said sadly, "I'm back on the farm in Roxboro, N.C. I couldn't get a baseball job. I'd still like to come back to the game."

Slaughter hit 318 with 13 homers and 98 RBI, leading the '42 Cards in all departments. Musial in all three with .315, 10 homers and 72 RBI.

The "St. Louis Swifties"—as the writers pegged them—won 43 of their last 52 games in an amazing stretch run under Manager Billy Southworth, now 69 and living comfortably on a 125-acre farm near Sunbury, Ohio. Until Marty Marion's last-minute conelation because of a death in the family, Southworth had his identical '42 World Series lineup.

Hall of Fame catcher Bill Dickey and Charlie (King Kong) Keller, the '42 club's top home run hitter with 26, led the Yanks, who were below strength with the absence of their two top hitters, Guy Gordon (.322) and Joe Dimaggio (.305) and little Phil Rizzuto.

Gettysburg's fast-stepping baseball team racked up its fourth straight victory by clobbering Littlestown 12-1 at Littlestown Sunday. Larry Eckert pitched a strong four-hitter for the winners.

"Skip" Fisel, manager of the Gettysburg outfit, announced that the July 4 game with New Oxford here will start at noon due to the anniversary parade activity at the rec park later in the afternoon.

The league-leading New Oxford team encountered little trouble in whipping Fairfield 21-3 on the latter's field. Twelve runs in the second made it easy for Bud Reichert, New Oxford hurler, to register his fifth victory. He aided his own cause with a home run, double and single. Miller cracked a home run and a triple, Heyser a homer, Ron Weigle three triples and Joe Bevenour a triple for the winners. D. Swomley, one of four Harney pitchers, was the loser.

Fairfield kept right at the heels of the league-leaders with a 9-3 triumph at Taneytown. Sites pitched for Fairfield and scattered nine hits. In the first inning Guy Weikert smashed three singles and a double in as many times at bat. Reese and Calmer each added two hits. "Skinny" Bollinger poled four of Taneytown's hits.

WIN IN 11TH

Fred Murren batted in three key runs as McSherrystown downed Brushtown 6-3 in an 11-inning affair at McSherrystown. The home club tied the score in the ninth with two runs when Ron Asper walked with the bases loaded to force home a run and Murren singled to shortstop for another. Don Coffman making a fine stop to prevent another run.

In the 11th Tom Staub walked, stole second base and raced home on an infield error with the winning run.

Bonneauville edged Mummasburg 3-2 in a tight game at Mummasburg as each team was limited to five hits.

Dick Pitzer, the winning pitcher, smashed a pair of two-run homers in the fourth and seventh innings to lead Arendtsville to an 8-4 win over Cashtown at Arendtsville. Taylor also homered in the fourth with one on for Arendtsville. Breighner smashed a two-run circuit drive for Cashtown in the third.

SPEEDY OSUNA OUT TO BREAK ASSIE HOLD

By GEOFFREY MILLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Rafael Osuna, Mexico's lightning tennis star, starts out today on the second half of his bid to break the Australian domination of Wimbledon.

The 76th championships of the All-England Club go into their second week with the men's singles field down to eight.

Six of them are Australians. Only Osuna and Manuel Santana of Spain are left in their way.

Osuna, intercollegiate champion of the United States, started out a week ago as an outsider. He grew into the big talking point of the tournament as he flashed about the courts voicing his way from victory to victory.

So far his victims have been Edison Mandarino of Brazil, John Newcombe of Australia, Gordon Forbes of South Africa and Alan Mills of Britain.

Today Osuna was scheduled to take on Neale Fraser, the Australian lefthander who won the title two years ago. If he beats Fraser, reigning champion Rod Laver is next on his list. The semifinals are scheduled for Wednesday.

Bill Kelleher, captain of the United States Davis Cup team, says that Osuna is the fastest tennis player of all time.

Despite the big splash made by Osuna, Laver is still a strong favorite to win the title again.

TAMBOURINE IS FAVORITE IN ST. LEGER GO

THE CURRAGH, Ireland (AP)—Tambourine II, American-owned winner of the Irish Derby in track record time, became an automatic favorite today for the 1 1/4 mile St. Leger at Doncaster in September.

Tambourine ran the 1 1/4 miles of the Irish Derby Saturday in 2 minutes 28.8 seconds—compared with the previous course and race record of 2:30.9 set by Talgo in 1956.

The 3-year-old colt, owned by Mrs. Howell Jackson of Middleburg, Va., and trained in France, finished a head in front of Arctic Storm, in the colors of Irish-woman Mrs. E. M. Carroll.

Tambourine's purse was $140,000. Except for the $150,000 offered to the winner of the Prix de L'Arc de Triomphe in Paris in October, this is turf's biggest golden apple outside the United States in 1962.

Townsend Martin's American-owned Sebring was third, a good five lengths back.

The 9 to 4 favorite, Larkspur, owned by American Raymond Guest and winner of the Epsom Derby in June, finished fourth.

Errors on the part of both teams played an important part in the Amvets victory on their home diamond.

Undated Eastern League

On and on the Williamsport Grays rally with Gary Kroll.

The big right-hander, who was able to win only four games while losing 18 in Class AA and B ball last year, racked up his 10th straight victory Sunday in the Class A Eastern League as he beat Charleston 9-1 in a game called after eight innings because of rain.

The victory hiked the Grays' lead to 12 games over second-place York and 12 1/2 over third-place Charleston. York lost 16-9 to Springfield in the only other game Binghamton defeated Elmira 9-2.

JACKY CUPIT WINS WESTERN OPEN CROWN

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—Jacky Cupit, the new Western Open golf champion, says he never again will get lazy.

"It happened to me last fall when I had reached the first 20 money winners on the PGA circuit," said the 24-year Texan from Longview "I went home for two months, quitting the tour because I just got lazy."

"The payoff just about wrecked my swing. When I got back on the tour I was hooking everything. My brother, Buster (one of five brothers who are professionals) finally discovered that I had unknowingly developed a strong right hand."

LAST YEAR'S ROOKIE

"I corrected it and gradually got back into the groove. I had my swing just right for this tournament. It had to be on such a demanding course as Medinah No. 3. But I'll never get lazy again, you can bet on that."

The 5-9 190-pound Cupit won the Canadian Open in 1961 and was voted Rookie of the Year after finishing 18th on the money list with $22,813. This year his best finish was a tie for 10th in the Houston Classic before mastering Medinah's tree-hemmed, par 36-35—71 with rounds of 69-70-71-71—281.

CASPER SECOND

It earned him first money of $11,000, boosting him from 48th on the winning list to 14th with a total of $18,507.

Billy Casper made a great closing stab for the title with a closing 67 that included nine one-putt greens. He finished at 283 for second place and $5,500.

Gary Player, who shared the 54-hole lead with Cupit with 3-under-par 210, rocketed to a closing 76. With him at 296 was Fred Hawkins with a final 70.

Al Geilger and Julius Boros had 287. Arnold Palmer, breaking par for the first time with a 69, posted 288. Next at 291 was National Open champion Jack Nicklaus and four others. Nicklaus wound up with a 75, his poorest round of the meet.

OERTER LOOKS TO MEET WITH RUSSIAN TEAM

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—"I can't wait to meet that Russian."

That was the succinct challenge hurled today by two-time Olympic champion Al Oerter as America's track forces, flushed by an overwhelming weekend triumph over Poland, looked ahead to the important July 21-22 dual with Russia at Palo Alto, Calif.

Oerter who wasn't even supposed to be in the Polish-USA dual—which resulted in a 131-81 conquest of the outclassed Poles—hurled the discus a world-record smashing 204 feet, 10½ inches at anast Stagg Field Sunday.

MEETS TAINTED FOE

In the Russian dual, the 6-foot-4, 255-pound Oerter, former U. of Kansas star, collides with touted Vladimir Trusevich, who on June 4 whirled the discus 202-2¼. That even shaded Oerter's great 202-2 throw in the National AAU meet at Walnut, Calif., June 23.

Oerter, who arrived in Chicago Saturday night—after earlier in the week reporting he would be unable to compete against the Poles because of a training injury—got off his great toss on his second of his six tries. The doomed listed world mark is 199-2¼, set by the USA's Jay Silvester last year in Belgium.

Oerter's spotlight-stealing performance dominated the USA's crushing of the Poles by a margin of 15 firsts in the 20 events contested.

RUN ONE-TWO

The American men ran one-two in no fewer than 10 events and yielded only the 5,000-meter, javelin, hop-step-and-jump, 200-meter dash and 3,000-meter steeplechase titles to the Poles. Each country had two entries in the 20 events.

The 50-point margin was the greatest in three dual meet contests by the Americans, who won in Warsaw 115-97 in 1958 and 121-91 last year.

The Polish women, however, scored their third successive triumph over the Americans, 61-43, although the USA girls took four of the 10 events and had one less set an American 800-meter record.

Leah Bennett, Baltimore girl who attends the University of Hawaii, took third in the 800 meter, with a 2:12.8 clocking, which broke the existing top mark for the distance by a U.S. citizen of 2:14.4.

OPEN WINNER RIDES CLOUD

MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. (AP)—Mrs. Myrtle MacKenzie Lindstrom, the new U.S. Women's Open golf champion, said she was on a cloud after winning her title Saturday and she has been airborne much of the time since.

She flew to New York Sunday for a Monday network television appearance (in her excitement she wasn't certain on what program she'd appear or when) and then she planned to fly on to Cape Girardeau, Mo., to join her golf pro husband, Fred.

Mrs. Lindstrom is taking home a fancy gift for their first wedding anniversary on Tuesday, a check for $1,800, the winner's share of the $8,000 purse. It was $600 more than she had won previously all this year.

The trim 23-year-old blonde native of St. Petersburg, Fla., closed with the best final round in a steady rain Saturday, 1-over-par 73, to pass fading favorites and post a 301 total for 72 holes, second highest winning total in USGA Open history.

Jo Ann Prentice and Ruth Jensen, the latter the leader or co-leader through each of the first three rounds tied for second at 303, each winning $1,000.

Pre-tournament favorite Mickey Wright, the defending champion and three-time winner in four years wound up with a 306 total and a fourth place tie with Louise Suggs.

Wetherill Mesa, in Mesa Verde National Park, was the home of Pueblo Indians who flourished for centuries and reached a high state of culture before mysteriously vanishing 700 years ago. Their crumbling buildings are being stabilized so they can be opened eventually to the public.

RUNNER FAILS TO SCORE ON LONG TRIPLE

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Baseball Question: How can a player fail to score from second base on a triple? The Houston Colts furnished the answer Sunday.

The incident occurred in the seventh inning in what turned out to be the Houston's only strong inning against the Cincinnati Reds, who coasted to a 6-1 victory.

Houston trailed by five runs as Bob Aspromonte opened the inning with an infield hit. After Don Buddin struck out, Bob Cerv came through with a pinch single. Aspromonte moved to third and Cerv to second as Frank Robinson bobbled the ball in right field.

That brought up Al Spangler, and he sent a line drive screaming into the right field corner for a certain three-bagger, which is what the official scorer called it. Aspromonte scored Houston's first run easily, but Cerv, hesitating as he rounded third base, was thrown out at home as he lunged for the plate.

"There was a mix-up in signs," explained Manager Harry Craft. "Billy Goodman (the next batter) thought the umpire called a foul ball, and he flashed the sign for Cerv to hold up. Anyway, it was something like that."

Cerv had little to say. "I'd rather not say anything," he said. "It was just one of those things. I should've slid."

There is a definite interest on the part of newspaper readers in advertising placed by local merchants. The Continuing Study of Newspaper Reading shows that throughout the year, the median readership of one or more local ads by women is 94%; by men, 74%.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Two more convicts, including ringleader Robert Payne, came down from a water tower today at Western State Penitentiary. That left only one prisoner perched on the tower.

Surrendering with Payne, 29, was James Reed, 24. Still holding out was Charles Miller, 32, serving a life term for murder.

Warden James Maroney said Payne and Reed "didn't look good, their lips were puffy and swollen," but they climbed down on their own.

GO TO HOSPITAL

Guards immediately escorted the pair to the prison hospital where they were placed under treatment for exposure and the effects of thirst and lack of food.

Payne is serving a term for parole violation on an armed robbery conviction. Reed is a convicted robber.

Originally, 13, convicts were perched on a catwalk of the tower 100 feet above the ground.

BEGAN ON MONDAY

Payne started the protest last Monday against alleged brutality in the prison's solitary confinement. Twelve other convicts joined him on the water tower Tuesday.

The biggest mass surrender came Saturday when four demonstrators decided to call it quits. Earlier in the day two climbed down.

The latest to quit was Donald Allen, 21, who is serving a term for burglary. He climbed down around noon Sunday; was given a hospital checkup, then locked up in a cell.

One of the group of four that gave up Saturday, Harry Shank, 31, aggravated robbery, returned to the tower briefly and made an unsuccessful attempt to talk the others into giving up.

The three who gave up with Shank were Fred Barron, 22, jail breaking; Arthur Broadman, 28, parole violator; and Earl Fehr, 30, prison breaking.

Those who quit the tower earlier in the day are Lawrence Stevenson, 31, parole violator, and Richard Williams, 21, larceny.

Prison officials continued their waiting game.

A man whose normal weight is 150 pounds would weigh about 50 pounds if all the water in his system were dried up.

STATE LEADS IN TEACHERS' CERTIFYING

By FRED WALTERS
HARRISBURG (AP) — For the adventurous Capitol newsmen, Pennsylvania's teacher "certification maze" once presented a stiff challenge.

Now, the types of certificates have been reduced neatly to five basic ones for the classroom teachers.

It took seven years and the efforts of almost a thousand persons, but the result has been such to evoke these comments from two leaders in the field:

GREAT STRIDES

"Pennsylvania has made tremendous strides in the field of teachers certification," says Dr. Harvey E. Gayman, executive director of the Pennsylvania State Education Association. "We're probably leading the nation in this field."

"Pennsylvania is proud of the major revisions which gave all teachers a substantial general education," says State Superintendent Charles H. Boehm.

There was a basic disagreement over teacher preparation: Should the colleges concentrate on infusing in the prospective teacher the methods of teaching or on the teacher's own education?

CONFLICT RESOLVED

The conflict generally has been resolved in favor of the latter approach.

About 15 per cent of the four years in the teacher training institution is devoted to educational theory and practice.

There has been further controversy over the level of education to be required of a teacher. The subject has been affected by the continuing fight for higher pay for teachers.

PSEA OPINION

It has been the opinion of the PSEA, representing most of the some 80,000 teachers in the state, that the state should not set up the requirements until it is ready to step up salaries.

Nevertheless, the State Council of Education has approved a requirement that teachers have the equivalent of a fifth year of college education, effective Oct. 1, 1963, before they may qualify for a permanent certificate. They will be given up to six years after they finish their four-year education to obtain the fifth year.

At the same time, the council last May 23 adopted a resolution that starting teachers' salaries should be raised from the present $2,600 to $4,500. It would be left to the legislature to implement that recommendation.

The principle of higher standards has been supported for years by the PSEA, but rejected by the rank and file of their membership.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

"Faith of our fathers, holy faith!
We will be true to thee till death."

These words of the great hymn can very well be the slogan for our celebration of the birthday of the United States of America.

The signers of the Declaration of Independence had that faith as attested to in the last lines of the Declaration "... with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

The founding fathers considered Independence Day a great occasion for rejoicing. John Adams said, "It ought to be commemorated as a day of deliverance, by solemn acts of devotion to God Almighty."

EXPERTS HANG EXTRA DANGER SIGN ON 4TH

CHICAGO (AP)—National Safety Council experts have hung the "extra danger" sign on the Independence Day celebration.

It's a one-day holiday. On such brief occasions, motorists cover more ground in less time than in longer periods.

"There's an extreme amount of 'pushing' type of travel and night driving," said Bob Andrieff. "That makes it more hazardous."

MAKE ESTIMATE

Andrieff and the council's chief statistician, Gene Miller, recently studied past performances, estimated mileage, checked previous holidays and examined current trends in motor vehicle fatalities.

They figured that between 110 and 150 Americans could lose their lives in traffic accidents in the 30-hour period that begins at 6 p.m. Tuesday and will end at midnight Wednesday.

For years the prophets came up with a single preholiday figure. Sometimes it was almost on the nose. For instance they predicted 240 deaths on streets and highways in the two-day observance of Memorial Day, 1953. The actual toll was 241.

But a check back through a 14-year, 70-holiday span showed that single-figure predictions missed the actual totals by an average of 41 deaths, or 12 per cent.

Council statisticians now reckon how many may die if motorists are sober and careful and how many may perish if they aren't. In between the two figures lies the musty area of human behavior — which, they said, isn't predictable.

Records demonstrate that more people are killed in traffic during holiday periods than at other times. During the last five Independence Day celebrations traffic fatalities averaged between 4.2 and 5.7 per hour. In a nonholiday period in July they average 2.3 per hour.

STEAM BATH VOGUE

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Newest status symbol in Hollywood is the home steam bath. And in some homes—a steamless steam bath. The vogue caught on because of Peter Lawford.

Lawford bought a home on the Santa Monica beachfront that once belonged to Louis B. Mayer. It had a steam bath. Lawford took steam baths for years.

Then a relative got elected president of the United States. Once on a visit President Kennedy took a home steam at the Lawfords.

Soon the steam rooms at the country clubs noted a drop in attendance.

Everybody, it seemed, was installing steam baths in their home.

PENNA. TURKEY GROWERS SAY EMPHATIC "NO"

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania poultrymen have emphatically rejected a proposal that would give the federal government control over the marketing of turkeys.

Pennsylvania producers eligible to vote in a nationwide referendum on the question turned down the plan 150-2.

With the exception of Lancaster County tobacco, the referendum marked the first time in decades that Pennsylvania farmers were on the winning side in opposition to a federal farm plan.

PROBLEM REMAINS

In the turkey marketing referendum—limited to producers who marketed more than 3,600 pounds of turkeys in 1961—the national vote showed 56.6 per cent of the ballots opposed to the plan. It would have taken a two-thirds majority to put it into effect.

The plan would have limited the amount of turkey that could be marketed during a year, but would not have limited production, as do control programs in other commodities.

Defeat of the proposal — which could have been a bellwether for similar restrictions in other marketing programs—leaves the status quo in the poultry industry. That is, there is still vast overproduction of poultry meat and no sign of increased per capita production to take up some of the surplus.

essions will be heard on Thursday at 4 and 7 p.m. Holy Communion will be distributed outside of Mass at 5:45 and 7 a.m. and there will be Masses at 7:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. on Friday, in the auditorium.

Managers of the Littlestown Little League will meet at 8:30 p.m. on Tuesday in the engine house. The all-star team will be selected for competing in the county tournament. If a team manager or representative can not be present for the session, the Little League president, Dick Selby, should be notified before Tuesday. Persons interested in helping at the tournament are invited to attend the meeting. The tournament will be held in Littlestown beginning July 25.

OZZIE NELSON WILL TOUR IN BROADWAY HIT

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ozzie Nelson, patriarch of one of show business' most successful families, makes his legitimate stage debut this week.

In a career of more than 30 years, from handleading to durable television star, he never before has appeared as an actor on the stage.

It will be old hat to wife, Harriet, born into a stock repertory company. She knew what a proscenium arch was before she tasted solid baby food.

"A LITTLE CLEANER" The famed husband and wife team will tour for four weeks in the Broadway hit "Marriage-Go-Round," a bit saltier than TV's "Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet."

"I'm rewriting the play somewhat," says Ozzie. "I hope the author doesn't mind."

"We have our image on TV and while the play is robust humor, I find that I can say things a little cleaner and still retain the play's vigor."

The story line concerns a young, beautiful hunk of Swedish womanhood who moves into the home of a university professor and his wife. The glamazon envisions the perfect baby as coming from the brainy professor and herself.

Ozzie plays the professor and Harriet the wife. Sally Kellerman, who did the role in a Pasadena Playhouse production, plays the student, a role done both on Broadway and in the movies by Julie Newmark.

Lyle Talbot, who plays Ozzie's next door neighbor on television, will complete the cast for the summer stock tour which opens this Tuesday in Warren, Ohio, for a week. Week stands follow at Columbus, Ohio, Southfield, Mich., and Highland Park, Ill.

Red Chinese Brush Off Kennedy Plea With Huge Show Of Artillery Power

By JOHN RODERICK
TOKYO (AP)—Red China Saturday brushed off President Kennedy's call for a mutual renunciation of force in the Formosa Strait after defiantly firing its most powerful display of artillery power in 13 years within sight of the Nationalist off-shore island of Quemoy.

The official New China news agency, which speaks for the Peiping regime, described Kennedy's call for renouncing force as a desire "to see the Chinese people renounce their right to liberate their own territory of Taiwan (Formosa)."

Red China has repeatedly rejected a no-force agreement, first proffered by President Eisenhower. The Communists claim that the question of Formosa is an internal affair and that they cannot be restrained by an international agreement from taking steps against President Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist regime.

POSITION UNCHANGED

The Communist news agency made plain this position has not changed. It said the Peiping press reported Kennedy's statements at his news conference Wednesday "under headlines pointing out that this reveals anew the cunning and craftiness of U.S. imperialism."

At his news conference, Kennedy directed words of warning at Peiping while commenting on the Red Chinese military buildup opposite the Nationalist off-shore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

"The United States will take the action necessary to assure the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores," Kennedy declared. But he also said a 1954 agreement binding the Nationalists not to move against Red China without U.S. agreement is still in force.

DEFENSIVE INTEREST

"I have indicated that our interests in this area is defensive, and we would like to have a renunciation of the use of force," Kennedy said. The United States also reportedly told Chiang's government that it flatly opposes its threats of attacks on the Communists.

The Peiping press, however, emphasized what it called Kennedy's intimidating tone and reports of the departure of several U.S. warships from Japan for the Formosa Strait "at the very time the Chiang Kaishek gang is feverishly preparing to invade the mainland."

Marshal Chu Teh, creator of the Red army and one of Red China's top four leaders, warned Friday night that "the entire armed forces and people of our country are keeping a close watch on the enemy's moves. Any military adventure of the enemy is sure to meet with complete failure."

ARTILLERY PRACTICE

As Chu Teh spoke, Communist troops in Fukien Province opposite Quemoy were engaged in their biggest artillery practice since the Reds won the mainland from the Nationalists in 1949. The Nationalist Defense Ministry in reporting the firing said no shells fell on Quemoy.

Top Nationalist Chinese military leaders were convinced, however, that the much publicized Red buildup opposite Quemoy and Matsu is only part of a major re-employment of Communist forces from north China to south and central China.

ROLLINS AND CEPEDA LEAD IN STAR GAME

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Rich Rollins, Minnesota's rookie third baseman, and Orlando Cepeda, San Francisco's slugging first baseman, were the top vote-getters on the American and National League All-Star teams announced Saturday following a poll conducted among the major league ball players.

The first of two All-Star games this summer will be played in Washington's new District of Columbia Stadium, Tuesday, July 10. The second game will be played on Monday, July 30, at Wrigley Field in Chicago. The games will start at 1 p.m. local time.

Rollins, who played only 13 big league games prior to this season, received 184 out of a possible 280 votes.

GENTILE, MORAN

The 24-year-old Kent State University alumnus was joined on the American League infield by Jim Gentile of Baltimore at first base, Billy Moran of Los Angeles at second and Luis Aparicio of Chicago at shortstop.

Cepeda, who was selected on the 1961 All-Star team as a left-fielder, ran away from his competition in the battle for first base honors. He received 229 of the 290 votes cast.

The rest of the National League All-Star infield consisted of Bill Mazeroski of Pittsburgh at second, Ken Boyer of St. Louis at third and Dick Groat of Pittsburgh at shortstop.

MANTLE AND MARIS

The balloting revealed a surprising turnover from both of last year's All-Star squads. The only repeaters in the American League were the New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle in center field and Roger Maris in right. Leon Wagner of the Los Angeles Angels won the left field spot and Earl Battey of Minnesota was named the catcher.

The National League also had just two repeaters. They were Willie Mays of San Francisco and Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh. Mays was the second most popular choice, drawing 213 votes for center field to beat out Henry Aaron of Milwaukee by a wide margin. Clemente won the right field post from Felipe Alou of the Giants in the closest balloting for a position, 74 to 71 votes. Tommy Davis of Los Angeles edged out Stan Musial, the St. Louis Cardinals' all-time star, for left field, 150 votes to 95.

PICK CRANDALL

Del Crandall of Milwaukee, who sat out virtually all of last year with an arm ailment, earned the No. 1 catching job.

The balloting was only for the eight starting positions, exclusive of pitchers. Pitchers and the remainder of the National League's squad will be announced Tuesday, July 3 followed by the full American League squad four days later.

The starting eight players must play at least three innings in each of the games at Washington and Chicago unless injury necessitates a change.

The managers, Ralph Houk of the American League and Fred Hutchinson of the National, will select the remainder of the squads, including all pitchers.

The American League has won 16 All-Star games and the National 14. There has been one tie.

USUMBURA, Urundi (AP) — Jean Kageorgis, a Greek citizen convicted of murdering Urundi's first premier, was executed by a firing squad Saturday on the eve of Urundi's independence.

Belgian authorities who administer the U.N. trust territory of Ruanda-Urundi witnessed the execution in the prison here.

Kageorgis was condemned by a Belgian court for the ambush slaying of Premier Prince Louis Rwagasore last Oct. 13.

TOKYO (AP)—A newly born American baby rushed from Taipei in a U.S. Air Force jet-prop transport for an emergency operation, was reported in "satisfactory condition" Saturday at the U.S. Air Force Hospital in Tachikawa, Japan.

The baby, born in Taipei Wednesday, had developed trouble in its esophagus, a case that requires surgery to prevent pneumonia and death.

He is the son of Capt. and Mrs. William L. Rehm. Rehm is a member of the Military Assistance Advisory Group in Taipei.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER
SUN-SENSITIVE LIPS. Sunburned lips can and should be prevented. Burning is not only painful and unattractive, but it can permanently wrinkle and line the lip complexion.

And there's where sun sticks would come to the rescue. Looking like a lipstick and colored a flattering red, sun stick is formulated to screen out the burning, blistering rays of the sun. It works in much the same way as protective sun lotions and creams.

Sun stick should be applied to cleansed lips before outdoor activities. Then it should be touched up as necessary. Since the texture is creamy, the finish is smooth and lustrous.

If you are allergy-prone or suffer undue solar sensitivity, you would be apt to find the use of a sun stick without side effects. The common allergens — substances that trigger skin allergies — have been omitted from the formula.

Besides protection, proper cleansing and lubrication are requisite to satiny lips. This is so at all seasons. Before retiring, lipstick always should be removed with an oil-rich cleanser. Skin oil or pomade should be applied and left on overnight.

Finally, a word of warning and a word of encouragement: Let the young beware that the lips will wrinkle, beforetimes, if they

Soft Drink Prize Is Gold Dinosaur

NEW YORK (AP)—Speaking of zany prizes:

A soft drink company is currently sponsoring a national contest with the top prize-winner getting a 10-karat solid-gold dinosaur, four inches high.

Last year the same company gave away a tropical island in a contest, and once it offered a diamond doorknob as first prize. But what do you do with a solid-gold dinosaur? ("Think of the status!" says the company's advertisements.)

Well, obviously, you put it on a solid-gold mantelpiece which you buy, of course, with the $10,000 that the company throws in to the winner.

Round Table Tour Hears Details From Sollenberger On McConnellsbury Battle

How the people of McConnellsbury went out to see a battle; how the death of the first Union soldier in battle in Pennsylvania came about and the birthplace of President James Buchanan were among matters before the Gettysburg Civil War Round Table at its June tour-meeting Thursday night.

Samuel G. Sollenberger, assistant superintendent of the Gettysburg National Park, gave details on the McConnellsbury battle at the site of the graves of two Confederate soldiers, W. B. Moore of Virginia and F. A. Shelton of North Carolina. The graves, along the Mercersburg Rd. about a mile from McConnellsbury, are marked by a stone monument placed there by the Daughters of the Confederacy and a metal marker placed by Pennsylvania.

According to Sollenberger, Capt. Jones and Company A, 1st New York Cavalry, entered McConnellsbury from the west early Monday morning, June 29, 1962. Shortly afterward a company of mounted militiamen arrived from Mt. Union.

ENEMY REPORTED

Capt. Jones was taking his ease, seated in a hotel, with the 38 men of his company sitting about the door of the hotel, when some of Jones' scouts reported the enemy was approaching by the Mercersburg Rd. When he learned there were not more than 75 Confederates, about twice the number of men he had, he decided to attack with his Irishmen.

Jones suggested to the militia captain that the militia line up across the street where they would be unseen by the Confederates. Jones would then fall back before the Confederates who would be startled by the appearance of Union cavalrymen in the side streets.

At this point, Jones said, he would attack the Confederates. He told the militiamen not to get in the fight, but merely to show themselves.

PLAN BACKFIRES

Jones' plan was working well until some of the militiamen, anxious to see what was going on, ventured down to the corner of the cross street and were seen by the Confederates. Captain Irvine the Confederate commander, concluded he was being pulled into a trap and ordered a retreat. Seeing the Confederates were not following, Jones then charged the enemy.

"Before the edge of town was reached firing began. The whole population of the place rushed into the street and ran after the pursued, yelling and hallooing at the top of their voices. The pursuit continued for about a mile. Jones and his 38 men captured 32 of the 63 men in Captain Irvine's unit of Imboden's command."

JONES RETIRES

Realizing that the survivors would soon bring a stronger force against him Captain Jones took his command and prisoners off toward Bloody Run. Shortly afterward, approximately 400 Confederate cavalrymen came to the town.

They found the citizens of McConnellsbury burying two Confederates who had been killed. They arrested the citizens, but when the officer in command arrived and saw the Confederates were receiving decent burial the citizens were released. The Confederates then searched the houses of McConnellsbury for Union troops and, finding none, left town about dark.

Sollenberger was also the speaker at the monument to Cpl. William Ruhl, the first Union soldier killed on Pennsylvania soil, about a mile north of Greenville on Route 11. Ruhl was a member of Company C, 1st Regiment, New York Cavalry, known as the Lincoln Cavalry. Most of the companies were recruited at New York, but Company C was formed at Philadelphia.

GREENCASTLE RD.

On the morning of Monday, June 22, two companies of home guards from Chambersburg and the New York Cavalry were on the Greenville Rd., out of Chambersburg. The New Yorkers had been sent to Scotland to rebuild the railroad bridge there, destroyed by Confederate Cavalry under Jenkins on June 16. They finished that work June 21 and moved to a grove a mile south of Chambersburg.

Rodes' division of Ewell's Corps was leading the Confederate advance north toward Chambersburg. Jenkins' Cavalry was reconnoitering toward Chambersburg for the Confederates.

At Marion, six miles south of Chambersburg, the Confederate cavalrymen came upon D. K. Appenseller, a resident of Greenville, who was on his way to Chambersburg to enter the military service. They captured him and he told them that General McClellan was on the way from Harrisburg to Chambersburg with 40,000 men. When Captain Boyd and his Company C of the 1st New York Cavalry came over the hill and dashed toward the Confederates unit they assumed this was the forerunner of McClellan's 40,000 men and retreated. Company C followed. Nearer Greencastle, the scouting party met up with more units of Jenkins' Cavalry.

REBELS GIVE BATTLE

The other Confederates, not knowing that the retreating unit believed an army was following them, gave battle to Company C, which was alone on the road. Jenkins put forward a skirmish line at the lane of William Flemming's farm. Rodes' Infantry took a position on the John Kissecker farm a quarter mile closer to Greencastle.

The New York cavalrymen for a time battled both Jenkins and Rodes, but, just when they were about to be caught in a murderous crossfire, wheeled about and withdrew from range, followed by Jenkins Cavalry. The Union force lost Cpl. Ruhl, who was shot through the head, and Sgt. Cafferty, who was wounded by a shot through the leg.

Sgt. Cafferty was cared for by the people of Greencastle, who buried Cpl. Ruhl in the Lutheran cemetery in Greencastle. On June 22, 1886, the Cpl. Ruhl post of the GAR of Greencastle, moved Cpl. Ruhl's body to the spot where he had fallen and reburied him there, placing the monument over the grave.

SHEADS SPEAKER

Jacob M. Sheads, head of the history department of Gettysburg High School, spoke at the house where President James Buchanan was born, now located at Mercersburg. He held that "No president from Washington to Kennedy was better prepared for the office of President of the United States than James Buchanan." Buchanan's parents were James Buchanan Sr., a native of County Donegal, Ireland, and Elizabeth Speer, a native of Buchanan Valley, Adams County. His father owned a trading post at Cove Gap, near Mercersburg. The area, because the trail up the mountain was so toilsome, was called "Stony Batter." Buchanan was born there, at a site marked by a large stone pyramid in Buchanan's Birthplace State Park, also visited by the Round Table. The family moved to Mercersburg when the future president was five and he attended schools there, then graduated at 18 from Dickinson College, Carlisle. He read law in Lancaster, and made his first public speech when he urged volunteers to march to the support of Baltimore, in 1814, during the War of 1812.

Buchanan joined the volunteers, and served at Baltimore. In 1822 James Buchanan was admitted to practice law in Adams County. He later served two "Times have changed," he said, "but man remains the same. Through the ages we have had brave men who formed the bulwarks of strength to protect the rights and property and, above all the freedom of their fellow citizens. Altogether too many Americans have come to believe it is old-fashioned to believe in our country. We have become too tolerant of those who would deprecate America, those who place foreign 'isms' ahead of Americanism. We should remember the statement of the old Roman patrician Catullus, 'Tolerance is the weakness of the strong.' We should always be tolerant of the rights of others, but we need not be tolerant of those who would destroy our American heritage. Many in this country have become so tolerant of our enemies that they appear to be on the side of the enemy."

DISREGARD FACTS

Dr. Soblen

Then, under cover of the blanket, he cut his wrists and plunged the knife into his abdomen.

The first his escorts knew of Soblen's injuries was when they saw blood seeping through the blanket.

Soblen's wounds were bandaged by the doctor traveling with him. Most of the 152 charter passengers were unaware of what was going on.

The pilot, Capt. Sam Shamir, radioed ahead to London where the airliner was to make a one-hour stopover to refuel and change crews. As soon as the plane landed, police, immigration officials and ambulance men went aboard.

RUSHED TO HOSPITAL

Strapped to a stretcher, Soblen was carried off the plane and rushed to the hospital.

Earlier, Israeli officials emphasized that Soblen was expelled from the country and not being extradited. The United States and Israel do not have an extradition treaty.

A British Home Office spokesman made clear that Soblen, who was deported Sunday from Israel, would not be allowed to stay in Britain.

MUST LEAVE

"As soon as Dr. Soblen is fit enough to travel, he will have to leave the country," the spokesman said.

Soblen forfeited $100,000 bail and fled from the United States last week after losing an appeal against the life sentence given him for spying for the Soviet Union during World War II. He was traced to Tel Aviv. Israeli authorities expelled him on the grounds that he entered the country on false documents — the Canadian passport of his late brother.

Soblen was secretly bundled aboard an Israeli airliner at Lydda Airport Sunday morning for Athens and transferred there to a chartered El Al airliner returning 152 Americans from vacations in Israel.

U.S. Chief Marshal James J. P. McShane, 53, who had flown to Tel Aviv to bring back Soblen, and an Israeli doctor accompanied the convicted spy.

Canadian Doctors Strike Against Medicare System

REGINA, Sask. (AP)—A strike by most of Saskatchewan's 700 private doctors swept this province of 925,000 people today as the Socialist provincial government launched the first big compulsory medical insurance plan in North America.

Charging that the plan opens the door to government control over their profession, doctors took off on vacation or quit the province to practice elsewhere.

Most doctors' offices and clinics were closed for the Dominion Day holiday today, but many displayed signs saying they would remain shut. Physicians said they would not give medical advice by telephone and would make house calls only in dire emergencies. The government medical plan—and the doctors' strike—took effect Sunday.

Free emergency treatment was provided by about 240 volunteer doctors at 34 of the province's 120 hospitals, but officials warned they may be unable to extend this service beyond two weeks.

Authorities began moving emergency and chronic cases to the 34 hospitals. The hospitals said they were busy but were not overloaded. One fatality, an infant was reported.

INFANT DIES
Ten-month-old Carl Derhousoff believed suffering from meningitis, died Sunday night enroute from his home in Usherville to an emergency treatment center in Yorkton, 75 miles away.

The provincial government said it would call on some of the 110 doctors in the public health service if they were needed to help in the emergency.

The Medical Care Commission set up to administer the new insurance plan began bringing in doctors from outside the province to staff hospitals and to serve in communities where local doctors have walked out.

4 FROM BRITAIN

Four doctors arrived from Britain. More are expected. The dispute has been raging for 30 months over the plan, which is financed by taxes and personal premiums.

The program, modeled after Britain's national health service, provides for all medical services except drugs, dental work, eye glasses, diagnosis and treatment of cancer and hospitalization.

Hospital costs are covered under a separate government plan. Cancer treatment is provided by the province's cancer clinic.

All Saskatchewan residents except those covered by federal medical plans must register for the provincial medical care plan. Premiums are $12 a year for a single person and $24 for families. These will pay only part of the estimated $21 million annual cost of the plan. A 5 per cent sales tax and other taxes will supply the rest.

Members of the fire company have been engaged for several weeks in carrying out activities in connection with the setting up of the carnival.

Among attractions of the carnival are a midway, complete with games, rides and concessions.

How to help your country today while you're saving for the future

If, like so many other Americans today, you've asked yourself, "How can I help my country?"—here's a suggestion from the U.S. Treasury:

Start buying and holding U.S. Savings Bonds. When you do, you open the door to a lot of bright horizons. For one thing, you put your dollars into a pile that the U.S. Government guarantees to grow. Your investment can never shrink.

But your Bond dollars bring you a bigger return than money alone. Uncle Sam uses them to strengthen his stand for freedom—so you'll be able to enjoy the things you're saving for.

Your new home, for example. Buying Savings Bonds helps make sure you'll be able to own and enjoy it in a free world.

That's why millions of Americans are putting up their dollars for freedom through Savings Bonds today. Why not add your strength?

Twelve persons were killed in traffic accidents in Pennsylvania over the weekend and 10 others died in other types of accidents, pushing the over-all toll to 22.

Among the nontraffic accidents was a racing mishap in which driver Hugh Randall, 28, of Louisville, Ky., was killed while competing Sunday in the 100-mile championship for Indianapolis type cars at the Langhorne Speedway. Randall died of a broken neck when his car hit a rut and overturned on the 59th lap.

DRIVER DIES ON 59TH LAP IN AUTORACE

LANGHORNE, Pa. (AP) — An official of the United States Auto Club said today the death of race driver Hugh Randall in the 100-mile National Championship Race for Indianapolis cars resulted when his car hit a rut in the dirt track.

Randall, 23, of Louisville, Ky., a relative newcomer to USAC sanctioned events, was killed Sunday when his car flipped over several times on the 59th lap. The accident marked defending national champion A. J. Foyt's second straight victory in the race. It was the second fatal accident on the second turn of the circular mile Langhorne Speedway in three years.

Commenting on the tragedy, Thomas J. Nicholson, Eastern Zone supervisor for the USAC and chief steward for the race, said:

"The fellow just got running a little too hard and hit a rut. He lost control of the car. It turned end-over-end and went from nose to tail about four to six times.

"This is a hazard of the sport, one of the uncontrollable hazards. You're just not supposed to hit the ruts."

Ancient Heroes Are Movie Attractions

ROME (AP) — Producer Charles H. Schneer says Hollywood is turning to the heroes of antiquity, religion, legend and literature for the big name appeal to replace the old movie "star system."

There aren't many of the great old stars left, he says, and those still available cost too much — a half million to a million dollars per picture.

Schneer, who has produced movies about Sinbad and Gulliver, is here to make "Jason and the Golden Fleece," with Todd Armstrong playing Jason.

"Gee generation of actors may come and go," the producer says, "but the characters created in literature, legend and history will be a part of our lives as long as people read."

Law enforcement officers should have only one purpose, the enforcement of the law.

M'LAREN IS PRIX WINNER

REIMS, France (AP) — "I don't mind going at it with blokes like that," said happy Bruce MacLaren today after his narrow victory in the Grand Prix of Reims auto race.

The blokes were Graham Hill of Britain and Jack Brabham of Australia. Hill, Brabham and MacLaren jockeyed back and fourth for the lead in a spine-tlingling duel in the final laps Sunday.

MacLaren, of New Zealand, finally pulled away and won by eight seconds in the 50-lap grind over the 8.301 kilometer (5.151 mile) course. Hill was second and Innes Ireland of Britain was third. Brabham was fourth.

For the last dozen laps before MacLaren took command, the race was a sizzling duel among the stocky New Zealander, Hill and Brabham.

Down the straightaways they flew at better than 160 miles an hour.

"You can trust blokes like that," grinned MacLaren. "If you come in high on a turn and one of them is down low, you don't worry. They aren't going to slide up on you. With them racing is really fun."

MEXICAN TOUR BUOYS HOPES FOR ALLIANCE

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's hopes for success of his Alliance for Progress were buoyed today by his second personal diplomatic venture into Latin America—a smashing triumph in Mexico City.

Millions of Mexicans in gay fiesta spirit poured into the squares and esplanades of their capital and packed the streets to cheer the President and Mrs. Kennedy on their weekend visit.

That outpouring of humanity, which all but engulfed the presidential bubble-top limousine as it inched its way Sunday from Mexico's most famous shrine, the basilica of Our Lady of Guadalupe, alone marked the trip a success.

PEACEFUL REVOLUTION

Kennedy's Alliance for Progress in Latin America, a multibillion-dollar international aid program spearheaded by the United States, is keyed to "peaceful revolution" to benefit the little people of the hemisphere. He obviously is working on the theory that loans and grants aren't enough, that the job can't be done without enthusiasm of both governments and people.

From that standpoint the President and First Lady scored heavily on their trip to Venezuela and Colombia last December. Their weekend in Mexico City was even more spectacular.

Never before had Mexico City turned out in such masses to greet a visiting dignitary. Government personnel who have been traveling with presidents for years say the pulsating reception exceeded anything they had witnessed.

NO DISORDERS

Fears that anti-U.S. elements would cause trouble proved unnecessary. There were no disorders, not a placard of protest visible, through the weekend.

Wherever he spoke, at official luncheons or at the Mexican government's big housing project outside the city, Kennedy talked of revolution in the peaceful sense. He associated political and economic progress in the 1960s with the revolutions that had advanced both the United States and Mexico in the past.

The joint communique issued Saturday by Kennedy and President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico bound the two countries to work side by side in promoting the wellbeing of all inhabitants of the hemisphere. It also joined them in recognizing the independence of each nation and to oppose intervention, whether from Castro's Cuba or Khrushchev's Moscow.

On the major dispute between the two governments, the United States agreed to take such measures as may be immediately feasible to reduce the salt content of the water flowing from the Colorado River into northern Mexico. Farmers in the Mexican area have complained too much salt in the water has ruined their land.

BAR STUDIES METHODS FOR JUDGE REMOVAL

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Some Pennsylvania lawyers believe there should be a method of removing bad judges without impeaching them.

The State Constitution provides that judges—and other civil officials—may be removed by impeachment by the House of Representatives, and subsequent conviction by a two-thirds vote of the Senate, for misbehavior in office.

A subcommittee of the Pennsylvania Bar Association, which wound up its summer meeting here over the weekend, has proposed a constitutional amendment concerning removal of judges.

But the lawyers' proposal would make no major changes in the impeachment practice, and that's what has some attorneys upset.

"Most of the people who should have been impeached never are," said Judge Chauncey Depuy of Franklin County.

Bernard G. Segal, co-chairman of the subcommittee, invited the lawyers to submit their idea on the subject by Oct. 1.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Demolition of a building for urban renewal revealed a hand-lettered message beneath a false ceiling regarding the presidential campaign — the campaign of 1968, that is.

It read: "Vote for Ulysses S. Grant."

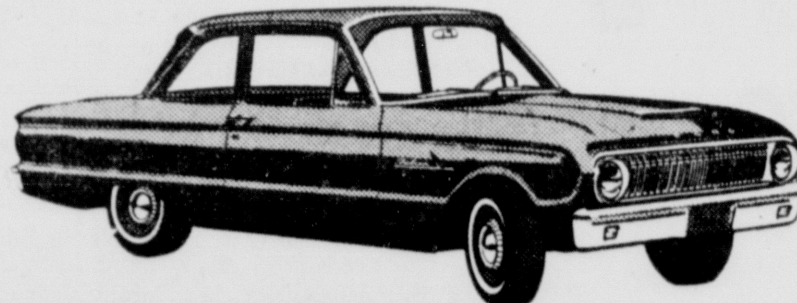

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Retired Rear Adm. Alan G. Kirk arrived today to take over as the new U.S. ambassador to Nationalist China.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

THE HEIRS OF COLONEL JOHN MCCLELLAN

After quoting in full the letter setting forth to the most minute detail, full instructions for his own funeral services, written by Colonel John J. H. McClellan in 1887, the editor of the "Star and Sentinel" added a few additional details concerning one of Gettysburg's outstanding citizens — as follows: —

"A spirit of adventure was a marked characteristic of Colonel McClellan, and showed deeply throughout his entire life. One of its manifestations was his ascension in the Wise balloon in 1842. John Wise, the aeronaut, was advertised to make an ascension from Gettysburg, and a large crowd came to see it. Mr. McClellan, determined to take Wise's place, paid the money demanded, received a few instructions and was off. He finally landed a few miles from York, Pennsylvania. This daring deed was widely printed, and in the event gave him (John McClellan) extensive celebrity."

HAD NO WILL

In spite of the fact that he was an astute business man Colonel John McClellan died intestate — that is to say he did not make a will. Since he never married and had no "legal issue" of his own and all of his brothers and sisters had preceded him in death — nephews and nieces were his heirs. On Tuesday, July 23, 1889, in the old "Star and Sentinel," the heirs, who were to share the Colonel's estate, were listed as follows: —

"Notice of Inquisition — 'Estate of John J. H. McClellan, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, deceased. 'To the heirs at law of the late John J. H. McClellan, deceased upon his estate his cast by descent, nephews and nieces, and issue of nephews and nieces, as follows: — William McC. Hersh, Pittsburg, Pa., G. Edward Hersh, York, Pa., Frank Hersh, Baltimore, Md., M. Louisa Hersh, intermarried with Charles G. Clippinger, New Oxford, Pa., James Hersh and Allen Hersh, Cumberland Township Pa., Paul Hersh, Omaha, Nebraska, the children of John Hersh, a deceased nephew, to wit — McClellan Hersh, Philadelphia, Pa., John N. Hersh, New Oxford, Pa., — the children of Mary M. Hersh intermarried with John C. Ellis, a deceased niece, to wit — Louisa H. Ellis intermarried with James L. Taylor, Thomas E. Ellis, Cornelia H. Ellis intermarried with T. C. Crossfield, Sarah B. Ellis, George Anna Ellis intermarried with Samuel Erskine, Eliza M. Ellis and Pauline H. Ellis, all of Washington, D. C."

MOVED SOME BODIES

According to a tradition Colonel John McClellan was, during his lifetime, very interested in the maintenance of the family burial ground back of the old Black Horse Tavern. His own father and mother, some of his brothers and sisters, and just about all of his ancestors, on the McClellan side, were buried there. After the local Evergreen Cemetery was opened the Colonel apparently began to ponder the fate of family graveyards — especially when all those interested in their preservation had passed on to their own reward. After he bought his own lot in the Evergreen, Colonel McClellan moved the bodies of his parents and probably those of two sisters and at least one brother from the old family graveyard to the newly opened community burial ground.

It is interesting to note that in the southwest corner of this historic burial ground repose the remains of William McClellan, II, "of Marsh Creek," and his wife, Elizabeth Miller, who emigrated from Ireland to what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania, in 1735. William McClellan, III, his first wife, Eleanor McMichael, and his second, Mary Reynolds, are also buried there. The third William McClellan died in 1796. Add to the above many of the descendants of the second, third and fourth McClellans and the number of bodies interred here must be rather large. It is worthwhile noting that bodies are buried two and three deep — one on top of the other.

OTHERS BURIED THERE

In addition to those bearing the McClellan name members of other families are buried here — but all are related to that clan "by blood or marriage." A genealogical and historical study of "these other burials" throw quite a bit of light on the early history of what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania.

The graves in the McClellan family burial ground are arranged in rows — running north and south. The majority of the remaining headstones face to the east — the prevailing custom in an earlier day. The first row of graves, bordering on the Black

CRYS MARTIN FROM MILTON BEAUTY QUEEN

WEST CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Bubbling over with excitement, pretty Crystale Leigh Martin today began preparing for television appearances and a tour of the state as the new Miss Pennsylvania.

Miss Pennsylvania pageant officials met Sunday with the 19-year-old blonde from Milton, who competed as Miss Susquehanna Valley, and her parents to map preliminary plans for television appearances and a tour of the state before she competes in the Miss America pageant at Atlantic City in September.

One of the first stops for Miss Martin will be her hometown Tuesday where community lead-

Hole Road, contains nine marked graves and five of these are field stones without inscription. Beginning at the north end of the line — first the grave of Elizabeth Butt. The inscription follows — "Elizabeth Butt, the wife of John Butt, Sen., Died March 18, 1851. Aged 53 years 4 months, and 2 days."

1. Adams Centinel, Monday, March 24, 1851 —

"Died, March 18, 1851, Mrs. Elizabeth Butt, consort of Mr. John Butt, of Cumberland Township, this County, aged 53 years, 4 months, and 2 days."

The notes on the McClellan family graveyard will be continued next week.

Judges' Salaries Given Increases

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's 206 judges received a $819,000 increase in their annual salaries Sunday.

The increases were included in an act of the 1961 General Assembly and range from $2,500 to $5,000 a year.

The $5,000 raise goes to Common Pleas judges in districts with more than 150,000 people. Their new annual salary will be $25,000.

The chief justice of the Supreme Court remains the Commonwealth's highest paid member of the bench. His salary goes from $30,500 to $33,000.

NURSING ACT TAKES EFFECT

HARRISBURG (AP) — For the first time in history, private and parochial schools in Pennsylvania are included in the state's school nursing program.

An act of the 1961 General Assembly handed the state the responsibility for reimbursing these institutions for their nursing services. The act took effect Sunday.

The State Health Department, which administers the program, estimates the law will increase its expenditures for nursing services by approximately $5 million.

However, the department said inclusion of the private and parochial institutions in the program only partly is to blame for the increase.

Most of it is attributed to a new reimbursement formula mandated by the law.

Under the act, the Health Department will reimburse the local school districts at a rate of $3.50 for each child in the district's average daily enrollment.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — The Anthracite Miners Health and Welfare Fund won a $72,573 judgment over the weekend from the defunct Coates Coal Co. of Columbia County in connection with alleged nonpayment of contributions.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — SKF Industries and United Steelworkers Union Local 2898 have agreed on a new three-year contract for 3,000 workers. It included a five-cent hourly pay increase for both the second and third years.

NEW LUTHERAN CHURCH GETS GOING TODAY

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

DETROIT (AP) — A fresh ecclesiastical venture was in progress today under a gold-and-white banner bearing the cross.

The emblem is that of the newly merged Lutheran Church in America, which has concluded its constituting convention here.

In four swift-paced days of legislation and ceremony, culminating six years of planning, the new church set its organizational machinery in motion.

Its constitution sets this objective: "This church lives to be the instrument of the Holy Spirit in obedience to the commission of its Lord."

PLAN NEW AGENCY

As for the effect of the four-denomination merger, embracing a total of 3,186,310 Lutherans, the Rev. Dr. E. E. Ryden, Minneapolis, a veteran Lutheran editor, said: "It will make the church an increasingly dominant force not only in the evangelization of America, but also in influencing its thinking and in shaping its ideals."

The convention voted unanimously to join in negotiations for setting up a new inter-Lutheran agency in America.

Similar action had been taken earlier at a convention in Cleveland by the 2,600,000-member Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, which in the past has stood aloof from such associations.

SIGN OF SOLIDARITY

The increasing solidarity among Lutherans was dramatically symbolized by an unusual appearance at the convention here Saturday by the Rev. Dr. John W. Behnken of St. Louis, retiring president of the Missouri Synod. He came to congratulate the new church.

The projected inter-Lutheran agency also would include the 2,300,000-member American Lutheran Church, a 1960 merger. Altogether, the three Lutheran bodies have more than 8 million members.

MANILA (AP) — Philippine Air Lines said Saturday its new DC-8-30 jet airliner "Sampaguita" established a record of 14 hours and 55 minutes for the flight from San Francisco to Manila via Honolulu. The scheduled time was 15 hours and 15 minutes, PAL said. Vice President Emmanuel Pelaez and Manila Mayor Antonio Villegas were aboard the flight Friday. No one was at the airport to welcome them back since the plane came in almost two hours ahead of schedule.
